THE DYBBUK is an ancient, mystical Yiddish folktale about love, family displacement, and the restless Jewish soul. This imaginative new version of THE DYBBUK, featuring the Arlekin company and guest artists and directed by award-winning director Igor Golyak, will be it's US premiere with 22 performances at the historic The Vilna Shul on Beacon Hill. The Vilna is one of the nation's oldest existing immigrant synagogues with a stunning, unique sanctuary space where THE DYBBUK will be performed. Immersive, timely, funny, heartbreaking, full of mystery - THE DYBBUK is not to be missed!

Book your group now for June performances before seats are gone!

"Igor Golyak is among the most inventive directors working in the United States."

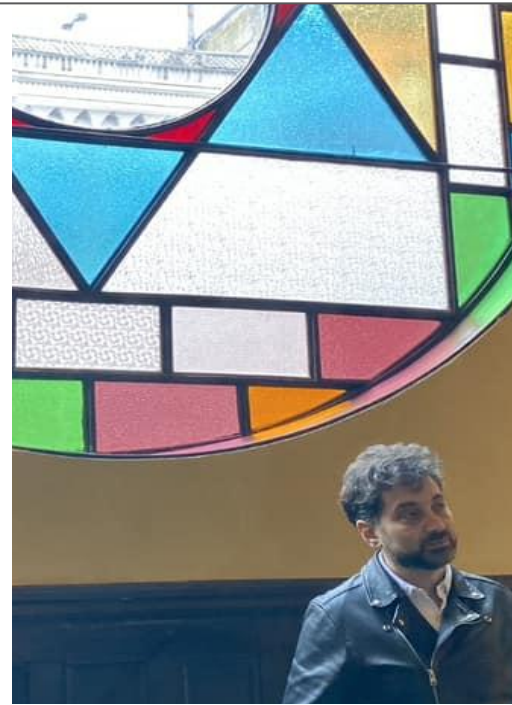

-The New York Times

"A visionary theater maker never thought he'd be 'Jewish director' — then the times demanded it."

-The Jewish Forward

"There's a certain fearlessness to Igor Golyak. This is a director driven to reimagine and deconstruct classic texts, not just stage them."

- The Boston Globe
